Accommodation Guide

Birmingham...

There is so much that makes the UK's second largest city unique. Birmingham has more canals than Venice. Its residents are from over 180 different nationalities making it one of the most diverse cities in Europe and a hotbed for culture.

From the Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery, the Ironbridge Gorge Museum and the Iconic Library of Birmingham it is a region filled with history and attractions.

Birmingham is the city that gave us the bicycle bell, the postage stamp and the whistle to name just a few of the inventions to come out of the area, boasting a huge array of restaurants many of which are Michelin stars, a thriving nightlife and a rich sporting history, having only last year been the home of the 2022 Commonwealth Games.
